Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 2, 6, 7, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Faour (U.S. Patent No. 6,599,284 B2).

Faour teaches a method and apparatus for the release of an active fluid agent wherein the apparatus includes a reservoir 1 for holding a quantity of active fluid agent, a compound selective polymer (osmopolymer) in proximity to the reservoir, and a release orifice 5 in the reservoir for releasing the active fluid agent into a surrounding environment. The compound selective polymer (osmopolymer) swells (i.e. expands) in response to a target compound (water), creating an osmotic pressure which forces the active agent out of the reservoir through the orifice. See col.15, line 38 to col.16, line 45.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1744

4. Claims 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Faour.

With respect to claim 13, Faour teaches that the active agent may be air purifiers or "other agents that benefit the environment of use". See col.5, lines 64-67. Given this teaching, it is deemed obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to employ a perfume as the active agent, since perfumes act on the air and would "benefit the environment of use."

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 14-17 are allowed.

6. Claims 3-5, 8, 9, 11, and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Although Faour teaches a reservoir of active agent and an expanding compound selective polymer, the compound selective polymer does not contract, nor does Faour teach polystyrene or polyalphanaphthylstyrene as the compound selective polymer.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
